

Contribution ID: 170

Type: Talk

Quantitative X-Ray Fluorescence Analysis: Fundamentals

Friday, 16 September 2011 09:45 (30 minutes)

The objective of this talk is to provide an introduction to X-ray fluorescence analysis (XRF) presenting the concepts to be retained for proper quantitative analysis. This should serve two purposes; to make sure the difficulties associated to quantitative XRF imaging are kept in mind and to simplify following the subsequent talks on XRF analysis.

Please specify poster or talk

Talk

Please specify the session

Advancing quantitative chemical imaging

Primary author: Dr ARMANDO SOLE, V (European Synchrotron Radiation Facility, Grenoble, France)

Presenter: Dr ARMANDO SOLE, V (European Synchrotron Radiation Facility, Grenoble, France)

Session Classification: Advancing Quantative Chemical Imaging

Track Classification: Advancing Quantitative Chemical Imaging