

Dr. Rémi DENDALE

Institut Curie

Radiation Oncologist

Chief of service of the Proton Therapy Center (ICPO)

Deputy Director of the Institut curie hospital in Orsay (France) , including the proton therapy center.

“Dr. Rémi Dendale, radiation oncologist, joined the Institute Curie in 1997. He was appointed head of the proton therapy center at Orsay in 2008. Since 2016, he has been Deputy Director of the Institut Curie hospital in Orsay. He’s author or coauthor of 170 peer-reviewed articles. Clinical activities are focused on ophthalmic, breast and cutaneous tumors as well as specific tumors locations treated by proton therapy.”